Julia Soderholm -Light where it has lingered
Solo Section Booth S-7

Julia Soderholm (b.1991) is a painter based in Vancouver, BC. Originally from Ontario, she is currently an MFA candidate at Emily Carr University of Art and Design. Her work investigates abstract painting as a way of re-organizing one's perception of the visual world. Using an invented lexicon of colour, gesture, and shape, she translates her experience of the landscape into newly imagined forms.

The paintings included in Light where it has lingered explore painting as a contemplative practice and a repository for memories of the natural world. Emerging from summer's long hours of sunlight, this work considers the movement of colour and light across the landscape. Each piece develops through an intuitive process of paint application and removal, resulting in many iterations as the layers evolve and the work reaches resolution. In this way, each painting invites a fresh way of seeing, as memories of aspen, granite, cloud, and river leave their trace on the viewer.

We will be offering guided tours with the artist the following days:

Friday, October 30 at 12 pm and 3pm
Saturday, October 31 at 12pm and 3pm
