Monica Reyes Gallery

Monica Reyes Gallery is delighted to present a solo booth at this year's Art Toronto art fair of paintings by Julia Soderholm, as a follow up to her first solo presentation in Vancouver with the gallery this summer.

Light where it has lingered

The paintings included in Light where it has lingered explore painting as a contemplative practice and a repository for memories of the natural world. Emerging from summer's long hours of sunlight, this work considers the movement of colour and light across the landscape. Each piece develops through an intuitive process of paint application and removal, resulting in many iterations as the layers evolve and the work reaches resolution. In this way, each painting invites a fresh way of seeing, as memories of aspen, granite, cloud, and river leave their trace on the viewer.

Julia Soderholm (b.1991) is a painter based in Vancouver, BC. Originally from Ontario, she is currently an MFA candidate at Emily Carr University of Art and Design. Her work investigates abstract painting as a way of re-organizing one's perception of the visual world. Using an invented lexicon of colour, gesture, and shape, she translates her experience of the landscape into newly imagined forms.
